

CHRISTIANE CLARK (NÉE WERNER)
19831 Alouette Place • Pitt Meadows, BC • V3Y 2W3

POST SECONDARY EDUCATION

Master of Arts (Economics), Simon Fraser University, Burnaby, British Columbia (2000). Areas of specialization included labour economics, immigration, demographics, and econometrics.

Bachelor of Business Administration (with Distinction), University of New Brunswick, Saint John (1996). Areas of specialization included economics, statistics, and operational research.

WORK EXPERIENCE

August 2000 to present. Economist with Associated Economic Consultants Ltd., Vancouver, British Columbia. Responsible for estimating the values of economic losses in personal injury and wrongful death claims, including losses of employment incomes, losses of economic support, losses of non-wage benefits (including pensions) and losses of household services. Additional responsibilities include calculating the present values of costs of future care based on the evidence of health experts and researching topics in labour economics.

Qualified as an expert witness in the Supreme Court of British Columbia.

January 1999 to June 2001. Researcher with the Centre for Excellence: Immigration, Research on Immigration and Integration in the Metropolis (RIIM), Simon Fraser University. Responsibilities included econometric modelling, and development of mathematical models, analysis of consumer spending patterns, research on immigration patterns and impact of language proficiency on the integration of immigrants.

January 1998 to April 2000. Teaching Assistant with the Department of Economics, Simon Fraser University. Responsibilities included tutorials in Introductory Macro Economics, Intermediate Micro Economics, Elementary Economic/Business Statistics II, and Twentieth Century Economics; student consultations; assist with the setting and grading of examinations and assignments.

PUBLICATIONS

1. DeVoretz, D. and C. Werner. "Canada: An Entrepot Destination for Immigrants," in (ed.) R. Rotte, Migration Policy and the Economy: International Experience, 2002. Munich: Hanns-Seidel-Stiftung.
2. DeVoretz, D., H. Hinte and C. Werner. 2002. How much Language is enough? Some Language Lessons from Canada and Germany. Discussion Paper # 555. Bonn Germany: Institute for the Study of Labour (IZA).
3. Werner, C. 2000. A Taste of Canada: An Analysis of Food Expenditure Patterns for Canadian-born and Foreign-born Consumers. Working Series 00-05. Burnaby, B.C.: Simon Fraser University, Centre for Excellence: Research on Immigration and Integration in the Metropolis.
4. Werner, C. 2000. A Taste of Canada: An Analysis of Food Expenditure Patterns for Canadian-born and Foreign-born Consumers. MA Project, Simon Fraser University, Burnaby.
5. DeVoretz, D. and C. Werner. 1999. A Theory of Social Forces and Immigrant Second Language Acquisition. Working Paper Series 99-25. Burnaby, B.C.: Simon Fraser University, Centre for Excellence: Research on Immigration and Integration in the Metropolis.